CFAX on Air July 1

Licence Approved For 'Good Music'

With full backing of the new Board of Broadcast Governors, Victoria's third radio station expects to begin broadcasting "good music" by July 1.

The national board, issuing its first list of approved new stations yesterday, said it disagreed with Saanich Broadcasting Co.'s contention that a third Victoria station was needed but approved the application "because of its good music plans."

Two other stations will be heard here for the first time soon after the board allowed power increases for C-FUN, Vancouver, and CHWK, Chilliwack. A Courtenay radio station, operated by William Browne, was approved at 1440 on the dial but won't be heard here.

Saanich Broadcasting president Ellison Queale, owner of a city radio-TV supply firm, first applied three years ago. An official of his firm, Roy Parrett, will manage the station, CFAX, which will broadcast about 13½ hours a day, dawn to dusk, at 810 on the dial.

Work will start in April on a 10-acre site at Swan Lake, off the Patricia Bay Highway. Building and equipment will cost $65,000, and a staff of 12, including three announcers, will be hired.

The station won't broadcast rock 'n' roll because, said Mr. Parrett, "there are already lots of stations covering the area that carry it."

Live programs with local talent are planned, and Victoria Symphony Orchestra may be heard. CFAX will emphasize Saanich activities and future plans include a frequency modulation outlet for high-fidelity music, including opera.

Unbaptized Battleship Scrapped

BALTIMORE (AP) — A $55,000,000 U.S. battleship that never went to war is headed for the scrap heap. The Kentucky wasn't finished in time for the war so work on her stopped. She's being sold to the Boston Metals Company for $1,176,000.

Names in the News

Lovers Mixed Up

MONTREAL—Pert English miss Pauline Giles, 26, and Chicago advertising executive Loran Sheffler, 32, say "we want to be alone" to work out their complex romance.

It started last fall when Pauline visited the U.S. alone to think about her romance in Eastcote, England, with Louis Gaches, 23. At South Bend, Ind., she met Sheffler, and it was love.

When Pauline went home, life was still miserable, she wrote. But when Sheffler flew to England, she seemed satisfied with Louis — and misery. So he tricked her into going to London airport, then dared her to fly to Canada, having fixed her papers in advance.

She agreed.

Mayor Tells Canadians:

Berlin Will Never Be Brought to Knees

OTTAWA (CP) — Bustling Mayor Willy Brandt said Friday West Berlin refuses to be "brow-beaten" by Russian threats and ultimatums.

Moving swiftly through a round of speeches, press conferences and talks with Canadian leaders, the broad-shouldered Brandt said with quiet emphasis:

"Not the slightest symptoms of panic have manifested themselves in Berlin the past weeks.

"We refuse to be brow-beaten . . . we are full of confidence. We will never be brought to our knees."

The 45-year-old Social Democratic mayor, who is to have talks with President Eisenhower in Washington next Wednesday, spoke at a luncheon of the NATO parliamentary association. He arrived here Thursday night.

In a crowded day, he also had a half-hour interview with Prime Minister Diefenbaker, called on Governor-General Massey at Government House, conferred with External Affairs Minister Smith and still spared time for press and television.

He said he thinks big-power talks on Germany will start this spring, but stressed it is just a personal opinion.

LONDON — Motor racing driver Stirling Moss and his father are reported to be sinking $28,000 into a chinchilla fur business — starting with animals from Canada.

Sons' Children

Homes Raided

NELSON (CP) — RCMP picked up six Sons of Freedom children in a quick raid Thursday on homes in the Krestova, Lower Krestova and Thrums areas.

Led by Nelson detachment's Sgt. Phillip Drysdale, the 12 officers were to return the five girls and a boy to the New Denver dormitory school.

There was no violence, police said, as they searched specific homes with warrants.

Mrs. Peter Tarasoff, who already has one child in the dormitory and had two others picked up Thursday, said: "I think my children are heroes, and so am I. But don't worry, we are planning to get out of this terrible country.

Ships Troubled

Europe Chokes In Fog

LONDON (Reuters)— Ships were reported in trouble from the Mediterranean to the North Sea Friday as fog and bad weather plagued most of Western Europe.

In Britain, perennial home of winter fogs, London doctors and hospitals were reported under "tremendous pressure" because of chest illnesses caused by smog and a parallel influenza outbreak.

Air traffic was snarled across the continent and shipping was badly disrupted. Brussels airport was closed by the densest fog in memory.

An air and sea search was called off over part of the Mediterranean Friday night after the missing British transport Empire Roach was found sheltering on the island of Gozo, near Malta.

In Denmark, two railroad ferries collided in dense fog and one of them was holed below the waterline. Both reached the port of Nyborg safely with their passengers.

Sad Danes End Search

COPENHAGEN (UPI)—The sorrowing Danish nation abandoned hope yesterday and called off the search for the 95 men, women and children of the freighter Hans Hedtoft which hit an iceberg in the North Atlantic last Friday.

Prime Minister H. C. Hansen sadly told Parliament that after seven days of intensive search efforts the ship must be presumed sunk and the 70 men, 19 women and 6 children aboard lost.

He said small Danish ships would continue searching the area off Greenland for traces of the wreckage.

A U.S. coast guard spokesman in New York said the cutter Campbell still was on the scene although snow, which cut visibility to a mile, prevented planes from covering the area Friday.

Courtroom Parade

Prowls by Night Forgets by Day

A man who said he had been drinking and could remember nothing of the incident pleaded guilty in city police court yesterday to a charge of prowling by night.

Robert L. Blake, Work Point, was arrested by Victoria Const. Gordon Bennett late Wednesday night on Fort Street, following a report of a prowler on rooftops in the area. The officer said he saw a man on the roof and nabbed him after he jumped to the pavement.

Magistrate William Ostler fined Blake $50.

Harold M. Roberts, 587 Maryfield, was given suspended sentence and placed under $500 bond for one year by Magistrate Ostler yesterday.

Accused earlier had admitted breaking into Western Agencies Ltd., 2500 Douglas, last summer and taking a tape recorder. He said he had been drinking at the time, then didn't know how to set things right.

Magistrate Ostler warned the accused, after study of a probation report, that he must straighten out his life; that he must report monthly to the probation officer; that he must abstain from alcoholic beverages.

S. J. Davis of Calgary yesterday pleaded guilty to two charges of obtaining lodgings by fraud—once at the Thunderbird Motel, once at Hillside Auto Court. He was remanded to Tuesday for probation report and sentence.

Short Course in FISHERIES
For Professional Fishermen
The latest fisheries information and fishing methods will be taught at a short course for professional fishermen at the University of British Columbia from March 9th to 20th.
The course offers instruction in technology, biology, oceanography, economics and commerce and law.
Lectures and demonstrations will be given by members of the UBC Faculty, the Fisheries Research Board of Canada, the Federal Department of Fisheries, commercial companies and individual specialists.
Purpose of the course is to extend the knowledge of the fishing industry to practising fishermen beyond their specialized branch, and to make fishermen aware of the biological, economic and legal problems of fisheries and fish conservation.
Subjects also include gear, boat design and care, operation and care of engines, fish detection, navigation, loans and indemnities for fishermen, safety at sea, insurance, shipwreck and rescue. It is sponsored by the UBC Extension Department under an appropriation from the Federal Department of Fisheries. Application for admission to the course, together with an advance registration fee of $5, should be received by February 23rd. Free room, board and tuition will be available at the Youth Training School at UBC.
